FINAL CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Welcome to the 2015 International Family Nursing Conference

Dear Conference Attendees,

I would like to welcome you to the 12th International Family Nursing conference: Improving Family Health Globally, through Research, Education, and Practice. Hopefully this meeting will allow you to enrich your understanding of the state of the science of family nursing research, the improvements in family nursing education and innovations in the practice of family nursing. And I hope you find time to renew friendships and make new friends! IFNC offers us the unique opportunity to contract the distance between us from miles to inches. Please take the opportunity to take a new attendee to coffee, chat about each other's work and perhaps set up collaboration!

The program for the 12th IFNC is stunning and demonstrates how Family Nursing is maturing in many parts of the world. I want to acknowledge the continued efforts of the conference Co-Chairs, Drs. Kathleen Knafl and Janet Deatrick. Along with their hardworking conference planning committee and Kassalen Meetings & Events, they have designed a splendid array of plenaries, expert presentations, and scientific sessions. We owe them an enormous debt of gratitude!

As well, tremendous appreciation is accorded conference sponsors who help make this gathering possible. This year, the College of Allied Health and Nursing at Minnesota State University, Mankato USA joined The Glen Taylor Nursing Institute for Family and Society, at Minnesota State University, Mankato USA, to be the official conference sponsors. The Glen Taylor Nursing Institute has been a stalwart support to IFNA since its inception. In addition, the University of Southern Denmark is our local sponsor, and Udvikling Fyn is assisting with local conference support.

There are several new elements to the conference in 2015. For the first time, IFNA Awards will be presented, as part of the Business Meeting on Friday morning. As well, the program includes expert lectures on various topics. And you can participate in the IFNA Raffle by purchasing tickets and depositing them to try and win the item(s) that are most attractive to you. I hope you will join in the learning and join in the fun! Thank you for attending, and for contributing your special expertise to our community.

Conference Overview for the 12th International Family Nursing Conference

As reflected in our conference theme "Improving Family Health Globally through Research, Education, and Practice", the 12th International Family Nursing Conference will focus on engaging nurses and interdisciplinary colleagues in discussion of global trends and issues facing families worldwide. With an emphasis on enhancing family strengths, the conference will focus on promoting creative partnerships among researchers, clinicians, and educators that expand the capacity of family nurses to further family wellbeing. The overall objectives of the conference are to:

1. Education

- Showcase educational strategies for teaching family nursing practice and research that communicate the inherent strengths of families.
- Feature educational strategies for family nursing practice and research that foster recognition of family strengths, family engagement in healthcare, and the integration of families in multiple social contexts.

2. Practice

- Identify opportunities and strategies for family nursing practice responsive to contemporary social issues such as poverty, discrimination, and global conflict.
- Examine strategies for family nursing practice that build on current research and technology.

3. Research

- Highlight research that addresses the challenges affecting families worldwide.

- Provide opportunities to participate in discussion of key conceptual and methodological issues facing family researchers globally.
- Involve researchers, clinicians and educators in conversations that promote innovative partnerships and endeavors.

4. Policy

- Examine the role of policy in addressing the challenges affecting contemporary families and increasing family engagement in healthcare.
- Identify strategies for increased participation of family nurses in policy development at the local, national, and international level.
- Highlight opportunities to enhance family health globally through the World Health Organization and other key organizations and entities.

Keynote Speakers

Our speakers all combine strong programs of research with a solid grounding in clinical practice. Their work centers on some of the key challenges facing families worldwide.

Kenneth J. Doka, PhD

Dr. Kenneth J. Doka is a Professor of Gerontology at the Graduate School of The College of New Rochelle and Senior Consultant to the Hospice Foundation of America. Dr. Doka is a prolific author, has published over 100 articles and book chapters, and is editor of both Omega: The Journal of Death and Dying and Journeys: A Newsletter to Help in Bereavement. He participates in the annual Hospice Foundation of America Teleconference and has appeared on CNN and Nightline. In addition he has served as a consultant to medical, nursing, funeral service and hospice organizations as well as businesses and educational and social service agencies. Dr. Doka is an ordained Lutheran minister.

Alison Metcalfe, PhD, BSc, RN

Dr. Alison Metcalfe's programme of research focuses on genetic risk communication within families at different life stages from antenatal to end of life care, and evaluating the impact the risk information has on family functioning and their quality of life. Some of her work also examines genetic risk communication between patients and health professionals and the implications this has for patients decisions.

Stevan M. Weine, MD

Dr. Stevan Weine, a psychiatrist, is a researcher, writer, teacher and clinician. His scholarly work focuses on the impact of trauma and migration on individuals, families, and communities. Over the past 15 years, Dr. Weine has demonstrated a strong commitment to patient-oriented research and mentoring new investigators, with continuous federal funding as Principal Investigator since 1998. His overall research mission is to develop, implement, and evaluate psychosocial interventions that are feasible, acceptable, and effective with respect to the complex real-life contexts where migrants and refugees live.

Education (Lokale 1 & 2)

Utilizing Innovative Family-Focused Simulations and Electronic Health Record to Improve Education and Practice

Presenters:

Stacey Van Gelderen, DNP, RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Cyrus Azarbod, PhD, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Colleen Royle, EdD, RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Kelly Krumwiede, PhD, RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Marilyn Swan, PhD(c), RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Norma Krumwiede, EdD, RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Sandra Eggenberger, PhD, RN, Minnesota State University, Mankato
 Emilee Kuehl BS, RN, Recent graduate of MSU, Mankato's School of Nursing

COLLEGE OF ALLIED HEALTH & NURSING
 MINNESOTA STATE UNIVERSITY MANKATO

Description:

Nurse educators demonstrate how family nursing care concepts are engrained within an undergraduate nursing curriculum. Family simulation scenarios are embedded throughout courses sequentially to examine family health experiences throughout the lifespan and in various care settings. Simulations and family electronic health records (EHRs) are effective tools to teach students assessment skills necessary for family care. The EHR includes a genogram and ecomap that provides students and educators with a visual image capturing family data. Participants will receive a 'hands-on' experience using the family EHR on supplied iPads and learn how to use family scenarios to enhance their teaching.

Planning Family Systems Nursing Knowledge Translation Research Projects. Where to Start?

Presenters:

Fabie Duhamel, RN, PhD, University of Montreal
 France Dupuis, RN, PhD, University of Montreal

Description:

While there is continuous progression in family nursing knowledge, little is known about how to best implement this knowledge into clinical practice. Numerous factors contribute to the challenging gap between theory and practice and there is an urgent need for more research about how to move family nursing knowledge into action. This workshop presents a brief overview of Knowledge To Action models including a knowledge translation one that philosophically fits with Family Systems Nursing. Participants will take part in discussions and small group exercises to learn about planning knowledge to promote Family Systems Nursing practice.

Research (Lokale K4)

Conceptual and Methodological Issues in End-of Life Family Research

Presenters:

Regina Szyllit Bousso, PhD, RN, University of São Paulo Brazil
 Suzanne Feetham, PhD, RN, FAAN, Children's National Health System / University of Illinois at Chicago
 Pamela S. Hinds, PhD, RN, FAAN, George Washington University / University of Maryland
 Debra Wiegand, PhD, MBE, RN, CCRN, CHPN, FAHA, FAA, University of Maryland

Description:

This pre-conference is designed to assist researchers conducting end-of-life research with families. One of the most painful processes that a family can endure is the death of another family member. Improving our ability to prevent and diminish suffering is dependent on the completion of high quality, end-of-life studies. In this workshop, we will provide an overview and practical examples of approaches to use when conducting pediatric and adult end-of-life research. We will discuss strategies that work when conducting end-of-life research with these vulnerable families. These sensitive investigations are needed for evidence-based care to families of the dying.

Education (Lokale 1 & 2)

Innovative and Interactive Ways to Integrate Family Across Undergraduate and Graduate Nursing Curriculum

Presenters:

Lacey Eden, FNP, MS, Brigham Young University
 Donna Freeborn, FNP, PhD, Brigham Young University
 Karlen E. Luthy, FNP, DNP, Brigham Young University
 Gaye Ray, FNP, PH-C, MS, Brigham Young University

Description:

Using the same types of interactive methods used in class, participants will participate in activities that demonstrate innovative ways to focus on the role of families and importance of addressing family dynamics and challenges when caring for patients as RNs and as APRNs.

Practice (Lokale K3)

Illness Suffering and Family Healing: Raising Your Clinical Effectiveness to the Next Level

Presenter:

Janice M. Bell, RN, PhD, University of Calgary
 Lorraine M. Wright, RN, PhD, University of Calgary

Description:

An unprecedented opportunity will be provided in this workshop to view a live family interview conducted by Dr. Lorraine Wright with Dr. Janice Bell providing commentary about the interview and leading the reflecting team discussion. If at the last moment, a live family interview is not possible, a previously videotaped therapeutic conversation between Dr. Lorraine Wright and a family suffering with illness will be presented on videotape. Dr. Bell and Dr. Wright will offer an analysis and rationale for why the experienced clinician said-what-she-said and did-what-she-did to refine and enhance family nursing intervention knowledge. This clinical demonstration workshop will provide experiential and practical knowledge about advanced family nursing practice, informed by the Illness Beliefs Model (Wright & Bell, 2009). Reflections about possibilities for family nursing practice, education, and research will be invited for either the live interview or videotaped family interview.

Research (Lokale K4)

Using Mixed Methods to Enhance Research with Diverse Populations

Presenters:

Jyu-Lin Chen, University of California San Francisco
 Kit Chesla, University of California San Francisco
 Roberta Rehm, University of California San Francisco

Description:

To provide novice researchers theoretical, methodological, and practical information in using mixed methods to conduct research with individuals and families from diverse populations. Experts in interpretive/qualitative research (Rehm, Chesla) and quantitative research (Chen) offer lessons learned from the conduct of mixed methods research with families. Participants can work on their own research questions or use sample research questions provided by workshop facilitators to practice mixed methods designs. Opportunity is provided to apply content from the workshop to a proposal using mixed methods research in diverse populations on a topic of workshop participants' interest.

Honored Family Nurses, Researchers, Scholars, Educators or Students

(IFNA received donations for the following acknowledgements / recognitions)

Dr. Janice Bell is an extraordinary supporter, promoter, and connector of all things Family Nursing. She is very generous with her time and talents to bring family nursing colleagues together with mutual interests.

Lorraine Wright

Dr. Regina Bousso's integrated program of education, research, and clinical practice aims to prevent complicated grief and improve nursing care to families experiencing death of a child. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, serving as a Country Liaison Coordinator.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

Dr. Catherine (Kit) Chesla is a premier family nurse researcher, whose community-based participatory intervention studies have furthered families' ability to competently manage the challenges of an adult family member's chronic condition.

Kathleen Knaf

Dr. Catherine (Kit) Chesla: Esteemed colleague, mentor, and friend. She has guided family focused research about cultural sensitivity with management of type 2 diabetes. A founding IFNA member and a caring leader in every sense. Thanks Kit!

Sharon Denham

Dr. Janet Deatrick is a family researcher whose work has advanced understanding of family response to the challenges of a child's chronic condition. She is co-chair of the Conference Planning Committee.

Kathleen Knaf

Dr. Suzanne Feetham has been an inspiration to all. She clarified the nature and purpose of family research, developed seminal criteria defining excellence, and always reminded us to "think policy."

Kathleen Knaf

The University Of Pennsylvania School Of Nursing thanks Dr. Suzanne Feetham for her inspired leadership in creating the next generation of scholars in the care of children and families.

The primary focus of Dr. June Horowitz's research is to use home-based coaching to increase the relational effectiveness between depressed mothers and their infants. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, co-leading the Abstract Review Sub-committee.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

Dr. Kathleen Knaf: Some work silently in the background providing great efforts not fully acknowledged. Kathy has contributed to IFNA's success and her leadership, toil, and passion have made two conferences successful. Thanks Kathy.

Sharon Denham

Dr. Hanne Konradsen's research focuses on the patient, the family, and basic nursing skills with a strong interest in research design and connections between research and clinical practice. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, co-leading the Host City Sub-committee.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

Dr. Jane Lassetter's research focuses on obesity prevention and reduction in Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander families and ethical decision-making in families who face life-altering illness. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, serving as a Country Liaison Coordinator.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

The goal of Dr. Helene Moriarty's research is to enhance Veterans and their family members' strategies for managing symptoms of Traumatic Brain Injury. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, co-leading the Abstract Review Sub-committee.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

The primary focus of Dr. Birte Ostergaard's program of research is chronic illness and the family, including heart failure, cancer, and chronic obstructive lung disease. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, co-leading the Host City Sub-committee.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

Dr. Veronica Swallow's research is designed to understand how children, families, and health providers can effectively manage long-term conditions to encourage optimum outcomes. She was a member of the Conference Planning Committee, serving as a Country Liaison Coordinator.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

The focus of Dr. Marcia Van Riper's research is the family experience of being tested for and living with a genetic condition, especially Downs syndrome. She was the IFNA Board liaison to the Conference Planning Committee

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

Debbie Zaparoni is the management heart of IFNA who creatively and effectively worked with the Conference Planning Committee to plan, implement, and evaluate the 12th IFNC. She is a consummate professional and remarkable human being.

Janet A. Deatrick and Kathleen A. Knaf

CALL FOR PAPERS

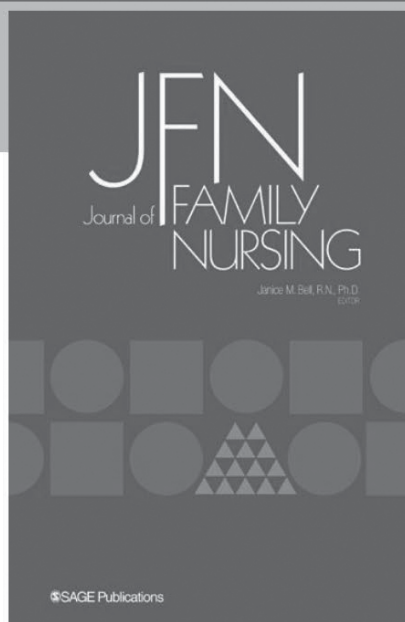

Journal of Family Nursing

2014 Impact Factor: 1.342

Ranked: 27/110 in Nursing (Science), 24/108 in Nursing (Social Science), and 15/40 in Family Studies

Source: 2014 Journal Citation Reports® (Thomson Reuters, 2015)

Editor: Janice Bell, RN, PhD
University of Calgary, Canada

jfn.sagepub.com

The mission of the journal is to extend understanding about the relationships between families, health, illness, and health care with a goal of transforming practice with families by nurses and other helping professionals.

The Journal of Family Nursing publishes nursing research, practice, education, and policy issues, as well as empirical and theoretical analyses on the subject of family health. The journal represents both "family as context" and "family as unit", examining cultural diversity and families across the life cycle. Interdisciplinary and collaborative perspectives are published from international contributors.

Special issue call for papers: Social Media and Family Nursing
Submission deadline for papers: January 15, 2016

Submit your manuscripts online at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jfn>

Announcing JFN and JJRFN Japanese Translations

Journal of Family is pleased to announce a partnership with Japanese Journal of Research in Family Nursing (JJRFN) to publish ten translated abstracts per a year. Coming soon, five selected abstracts from JFN will be translated into Japanese and five selected abstracts from JJRFN will be translated into English. This collaboration between both journals will provide the opportunity to not only share family nursing knowledge but also promote and advance it between languages and countries.

The Ohio State University College of Nursing seeks NIH-funded researcher as director of Center for Women, Children and Adolescents

The Ohio State University College of Nursing has embarked on a new era of excellence, led by Associate Vice President for Health Promotion, University Chief Wellness Officer, and Dean of the College of Nursing Dr. Bernadette Melnyk. Under her leadership, the college is engaged in bold new strategic initiatives to lead cutting-edge transdisciplinary research that impacts outcomes in real world settings. The college is located on the largest health sciences campus in the country and is one of seven health science colleges at Ohio State with outstanding collaborations with the world renowned OSU Wexner Medical Center and the OSU James Comprehensive Cancer Center.

The college has three nationally renowned centers of excellence, including the Center for Women, Children and Youth, the Center of Excellence in Critical and Complex Care, and the Center for Transdisciplinary Evidence-based Practice. It offers robust PhD and DNP programs as well as several other outstanding graduate and baccalaureate degrees. Faculty and students in the college are engaged in a wide variety of cutting edge research in basic, biological, and clinical research to improve health outcomes across the life span. Bold new research initiatives have been launched, including a recently funded NIH/NINR T32 in child health.

The director of the Center for Women, Children and Adolescents will lead an outstanding group of faculty to expand the science and impact of research to improve outcomes in women, children and adolescents. This is a 12-month position, and continued NIH-funding is an expectation.

The Center for Women, Children & Youth (CWCY) at The Ohio State University College of Nursing is internationally renowned for the discovery of new knowledge and its translation into real world settings to optimize health and wellness outcomes in infants, children, adolescents and women through health promotion and risk reduction.

The mission of the CWCY is to foster excellence in the core values of in Collaboration, Outreach, Research, and Educational to promote the highest levels of health and wellness through pioneering research, translational activities, and transdisciplinary research educational programs.

The DNP at Ohio State

If the time is right in your career to reach for the highest level of expertise in nursing practice, then it's time for the DNP at Ohio State. The Doctor of Nursing Practice is an online program offering doctoral preparation to nurses who want to tailor their careers toward leadership roles in health care, evidence-based practice, nursing administration or health policy.

We'll be happy to speak or meet with you, and send you detailed information and admission requirements.

For further information, contact the graduate outreach office: (614) 688-8145 or nursing@osu.edu. Visit us online at nursing.osu.edu/dnp

Optimizing Health Development Across Childhood (OH-DAC)

The Ohio State University College of Nursing has been awarded a T32 predoctoral education grant from NIH, NINR for an interdisciplinary training program, Optimizing Health Development Across Childhood (OH-DAC). This is the only training grant awarded by NINR that focuses on the pediatric population.

The overarching goal of the program is to prepare nurse scientists to understand how biology, behavior, social and environmental factors intersect during childhood to influence life course health development and to use this knowledge to develop rigorous interdisciplinary programs of research to optimize health. The focus of this training program is on health development in children, broadly defined to include the period from conception through adolescence.

Individuals interested in this program must be accepted into the College of Nursing's PhD program. Applicants selected for this opportunity receive full tuition and a living stipend.

Further information is available at nursing.osu.edu/T32, or contact Kim Arcoleo PhD, MPH, at arcoleo.1@osu.edu.
