6. Family Care in Acute and Critical Illness Research Cluster (10 minutes) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Possible direction</li> <li>• Persons responsible</li> <li>• Expected outcomes</li> </ul>	Sandra Eggenberger (USA) (Convener); Wendi Smith (USA); Marion Mitchel (Australia); Rahel Naef (Switzerland); Cynthia Danford (USA); and Lynn Kuechle met on June 15 at 5 – 6 pm. Sonja Meiers attended as International Collaboration Subcommittee of the IFNA Research Committee Co –Chair. Petra Brysiewicz (South Africa) and Patricia Beierwaltes (USA) are also interested members of this Research Cluster. This engaged group decided that best meeting times are 3 on CDT, 4 pm EDT, 6 am Australia, 10 pm Amsterdam & 10 pm South Africa. As this Research Cluster moves forward, research questions that may guide this cluster’s work are: The group will consider further direction of starting a global inquiry based on the research question: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How do nurses describe and enact involvement/partnership/engagement with families of their acutely ill patients?</li> <li>• Method of interviewing nurses and analyzing the data as a global team to identify themes and then compare and contrast global meanings</li> </ul>
7. Research Clusters	Potential Future Research clusters were identified by those in attendance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Families with children with special health care needs</li> <li>• Families with children with Type I diabetes in transition to self-management</li> <li>• Young adults who are caregivers</li> <li>• Families of middle aged adults with chronic illness</li> <li>• Families of older adults with chronic illness</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Family functioning</li> <li>• Families in the end of life context</li> <li>• Family caregiving (across the life continuum)</li> <li>• Families facing the opioid crisis (this was USA specific)</li> </ul> We believe it would be helpful to conduct a Research Committee or IFNA wide electronic survey to identify the next potential Research Cluster
8. Leadership Succession for this Subcommittee	We are pleased to announce that Cynthia Danford (USA) has agreed to assume leadership of this Subcommittee. Dr. Danford has contributed consistently to the success of this Subcommittee and its work and will continue to support its direction well.
9. Research News	What do we have to share on the Research News aspect of the IFNA website? Mini-report out of Research Cluster work Sample consent forms Sample research protocols Introduction to family nursing research Slides from family nursing research courses The top 10 research measures Perhaps we can make a strategy for gathering this information at the July or September Subcommittee meeting.
